New Projects Under Way

A note from Mayor Garret Nancolas

Spring . . . a time of new beginnings. New grass, new leaves on the trees, fresh spring flowers blooming everywhere—what a beautiful city we live in.

You have probably noticed some new demolition going on as well, and the beginnings of new construction in several areas of Caldwell. The College of Idaho just received a wonderful donation to build the brand-new Cruzen-Murray Library on the college campus. While it is a college library, it will also serve and benefit our community. Just another example of a great community partnership.

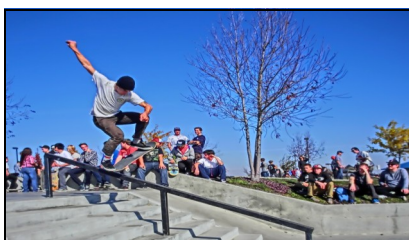

We just had a groundbreaking for the Roberts Recreation Center adjacent to the swimming pool in Memorial Park. Rob and Nancy Roberts donated the steel structure for a building that was donated to the Police Athletic League (PAL) and the City of Caldwell. And together, as a partnership between PAL and the City, we are going to build a new recreation facility that will house programs for the families, the youth, and the citizens of our community.

Another new park is also on the way—the north end of Whittenberger Park is being repurposed for the new Dog Park with the bulk of the work being completed this summer. More information coming as the project continues.

Progress continues on the Indian Creek Plaza development and the Veteran's Memorial Hall. Further plans on the horizon include the Trolley Square Redevelopment Project. Our ultimate goal is that people will come downtown and walk around this beautiful creek to enjoy something at the plaza, then walk over to the movie theater, or browse the downtown businesses and purchase items, or perhaps visit one of our many restaurants.

Caldwell has many fun, exciting activities and experiences to offer our community; take a chance and try something new!

The Roberts Recreation Center

The City of Caldwell is excited to announce a new Recreational facility in Memorial Park, the Roberts Recreation Center. This center will house the Caldwell Recreation programs, as well as the P.A.L. boxing program. Classes such as gymnastics, karate, ballet, cheerleading, and adult dance lessons are just some of the programs to be offered at the new facility. Future plans include new outdoor basketball and volleyball courts in the area surrounding the building. This will centralize many of the recreation activities to one location—making it easy to do “one-stop” recreation shopping!

Want to major in fun this summer, without the homework, tests or grading? Perhaps introduce your children to the fun world of fishing? Or, maybe learning about the vines and wines of the Sunnyslope region is more your taste. Wherever your interests are, be sure to check out The College of Idaho's wide selection of more than 30 different community learning classes. There is an exciting lineup of classes to engage students as young as six years old up through 99 years young!

Classes will be taught by College of Idaho faculty and staff members as well as skilled instructors from the local community. . Summer 2016 class offerings will include:

- Pottery for Adults (and various art classes)
- Vines and Wines of the Sunnyslope Wine Region
- And more!

Don't delay and register for community learning classes at The College of Idaho today! For more information, contact Rebecca Wilhite at rwilhite@collegeofidaho.edu or 459-5166.

News from the Caldwell Police Department (via Captain Devin Riley)

Officers went to Van Buren Elementary school for National School Breakfast Week. Officers spent more than 45 minutes talking to kids about how important breakfast is, and just hanging out with the kids. Kids loved it and so did the officers.!

Lots of support for the Kelly family in Caldwell, including this determined group of guys.

"We've got your back Mitch!"
CPD officers outside The Bird Stop:
Lt. Joey Hadley, Capt. Devin Riley,
Chief Frank Wyant, Corporal Patrick Lewis

There have been several promotions within the Department:

Devin Riley was promoted to Captain
Joey Hoadley was promoted to Lieutenant
Joshua Gregory was promoted to Sergeant
Patrick Lewis was promoted to Corporal.

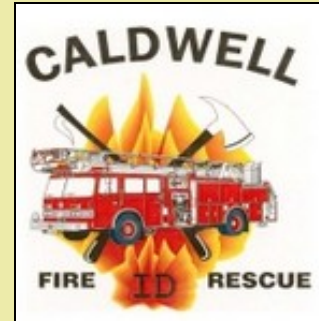

Climb. Conquer. Cure.

On March 6th, six guys from Caldwell Fire Dept. travelled to Seattle Washington to participate in the 25th Annual Scott Firefighter Stair Climb. Firefighters from all over the US, Canada, and South America all came together to raise money for the Leukemia and Lymphoma Societies. The challenge: to conquer the Columbia Building. Firefighters had to climb 69 flights of stairs—1356 steps—while in full bunker gear and on air. There were over 1900 participants. On behalf of the Caldwell Firefighter Stairclimb Team, we thank everyone for the amazing support; because of your generosity we were able to raise almost $6000.

Firefighters KC Zachary, Kolby Kerbs, Dee Berryman, Dewayne Birch, Greg Cobb, and Dan Garcia
