CALDWELL FIRE DEPARTMENT PRESS RELEASE

DATE: September 13, 2024

A fire that ignited on September 12 was caused due to a vehicle recall that was never repaired. The call came in at 5:45 a.m. in the 2000 block of Strayhorn Drive. The fire started in the vehicle and then spread to the home, engulfing the garage and the upper living quarters of the residence.

Everyone got out of the home safely. No one was injured.

As a reminder, car recalls help to ensure all vehicles on the roadways are safe to drive, thus protecting drivers, passengers, pedestrians, and in this case, your home. It's important to be aware of, and adhere to, all car recalls.
